Synopsis

In an era of evolving challenges and societal complexities, the need to cultivate safe, inclusive, and empowering environments has never been more urgent. This unique online event brings together two eminent voices in public service and social justice — Ms. Letika Saran, IPS (Retd.), Former Director General of Police, Tamil Nadu, and Ms. L. Maithili, Advocate and Trustee of Shakti Public Charitable Trust.

Together, they will share their insights on the systems, structures, and societal attitudes that must evolve to truly enable individuals — particularly women and marginalized communities — to feel secure, valued, and empowered.

The conversation will reflect on:

How law, governance, and justice intersect with empowerment

Creating real and psychological safe spaces in public and private spheres

The role of advocacy, awareness, and community-led initiatives

What it takes to build environments where people don't merely survive — but thrive

Let us come together to affirm this belief: when individuals recognise their worth, they don't just rise despite the system — they reshape it. They challenge norms, uplift others, and build stronger communities through collective action and courage.

Join us online at the MMA event organised in partnership with Shakti Public Charitable Trust, to understand what it means to build a future where people don't just 'fit' — they flourish.
